

EUCEN Webinar
Barcelona, 14-15Nov19

CALOHEE framework proposal for Civic, Social and Cultural Engagement

Alfredo Soeiro
FEUP, avsoeiro@fe.up.pt

CALOHEE framework for Civic, Social and Cultural Engagement

1. Demonstrate critical understanding of communalities and differences in and between societies and Cultures. (Knowledge)

1. Identify, describe and analyse issues in and between societies and cultures. (Skills)

1. Demonstrate engagement by developing scenarios and alternatives and/or identifying best practices of interaction between societies and cultures and - if required – interventions in case of tensions and/or conflicts. (Autonomy and responsibility)

2. Demonstrate critical understanding of the processes of information and communication. (Knowledge)

2. Review and judge (mis)use of sources, data, evidence, qualities, intentions and transparency and expert opinions. (Skills)

2. Active contribution to societal debates using reliable data and information sources and informed judgements. (Autonomy and responsibility)

CALOHEE framework for Civic, Social and Cultural engagement

3. Demonstrate critical understanding of the processes of governance and decision making. (Knowledge)

3. Apply and support agreed governing principles, norms and values regarding fairness, transparency, accountability, democracy and relevance in policy making processes. (Skills)

3. Active contribution to and with local and (inter)national communities, community groups, (political) organisations and pressure groups respecting agreed principles, norms and values. (Autonomy and responsibility)

4. Demonstrate critical understanding of general ethical principles, norms and values and professional standards. (Knowledge)

4. Understand and apply the processes of decision making and the consequences of actions taking into account principles, norms, values and standards both from a personal and a professional standpoint. (Skills)

4. Active contribution to upholding, promoting and defending general ethical principles, norms, values and professional standards in governance, communication and cultural interaction. (Autonomy and responsibility)